Duncan Aviation has been assisting companies around the world with the sales and acquisition of aircraft for more than 60 years.

The Aircraft Sales & Acquisitions team is backed by a vast number of resources. At Duncan Aviation, we touch every part of an aircraft and have first-hand knowledge of how corporate flight departments function to further business goals. Clients who work with us have access to the entire spectrum of knowledge and experience that our 2,150 team members located worldwide provide.

Aircraft sales and acquisition experts, each with more than 25 years of experience. They perform aircraft market analysis and research daily and are astute at negotiating on behalf of their clients.

Service relationships with operators of more than 8,070 aircraft over last four years.

Experience with 3,500 aircraft transactions.
